I use my laptop computer for my home business. Is it covered under my homeowners policy?

Question:

I use my laptop computer for my home business. Is it covered under my homeowners policy?

Answer:

Homeowners policies usually don't cover laptops used for business. Check with your insurer to find out what your other options are. You may need to purchase incidental business coverage, add a floater to your homeowners policy, or purchase a separate laptop policy.
